“Develop the Power to Serve and Lead for the Common Good.”

Applications may be emailed to: chantel.lashay.smith@emory.edu

or mailed to:
Emory University
Center for Ethics
1531 Dickey Drive
Atlanta, GA 30322

For more information visit: www.ethics.emory.edu

Dr. Edward Queen, Director
Carlton D. Mackey, Assistant Director
GREETINGS & WELCOME

We are delighted by your interest in the D. Abbott Turner Program in Ethics and Servant Leadership (EASL) Forum. The EASL Forum is an academic year program that explores paths toward a more just and ethically engaged society. This year a combination of 15 undergraduate and graduate students will be selected. These students will take part in a shared journey that incorporates leadership building, consciousness raising, ethical inquiry, self-exploration, and relationship building. EASL scholars are critical to fulfilling the overall mission of the Center for Ethics that is to help Emory leaders develop the power to serve and lead for the common good.

Through the use of films, discussions, service projects, community excursions, and invited speakers such as scholars, activists, and community leaders we will seek to answer questions such as, “What does it mean to be ethical, what are alternative ways for me to live and act in the world, and how can I challenge structures of racism, ‘classism’, and sexism in my everyday life?”

OVERVIEW OF THE FORUM

This year’s forum will kick off with an opening retreat at the Nantahala Outdoor Center on September 23rd. Participation is required. After a weekend of ropes courses, river rafting, small group exercises, and leadership training, the EASL Forum will convene two hours weekly for the remainder of the academic year (fall and spring Semesters). Each month the EASL forum will focus on a different social topic and will struggle to understand the ethical implications and challenges it presents.
The Forum’s topics include:

- Examining Race and Class
- Sexuality and Gender
- Law
- Urban Development
- Relationship to the Environment
- Intersection between ethics & the arts

This year’s scholars will also design and implement their own service or art based project. These projects will highlight various aspects of the topics that will be discussed in the Forum. The scholars will present their projects at the end of the program. The Forum will culminate with a Celebration Banquet in the spring.

Interested? Apply Now.

Do you want to be a more ethically engaged individual?

Do you want to become a more effective leader?

Do you want to be a part of a group committed to making a difference in the world?

Do you want to have a greater knowledge and deeper awareness of the issues facing our society?

Join the 2011 – 2012 Ethics and Servant Leadership Forum and Make a Difference.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Applications are due Monday, September 12, 2011 by 5:00 p.m.

Applications may be emailed to: chantel.lashay.smith@emory.edu

or mailed to:

Emory University
Center for Ethics
1531 Dickey Drive
Atlanta, GA 30322
2011-2012 ETHICS & SERVANT LEADERSHIP FORUM APPLICATION

APPLICANT

Applications are due Monday, September 12, 2011 by 5:00 p.m.

Complete All Items (Please Type or Print Clearly)

Name ______________________________________________________________

          Last           First          (Preferred)

Emory Address ________________________________________________________

City_________________________________ State__________ ZIP_________

Home Address _______________________________________________________

(Number & Street)

City_________________________________ State__________ ZIP_________

Email ___________________________________ Phone _______________________

(Area/City Code)

Gender ________________________________

Education

School (Emory College, School of Nursing, etc…) ______________________________

Major __________________ Year/Graduation Date __________________________
How did you hear about the Forum?

- Email
- Sign/Poster
- Ethics Center Website
- Ethics Center Blog
- Professor announced in class
- Other

Is there someone else we should be sure to let know about the Forum?

Name ___________________________________________ Email ______________________

Last First

What night of the week would you absolutely NOT be able to attend a weekly forum?

_________________________________________________________________________________

Have you previously participated in any EASL programs?

__________________________________________________________________________________

Demographics (Optional):

- Asian American
- Native American (American Indian or Alaskan Native)
- African American or Black
- Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander
- Caucasian or White

References

List two references who can attest to your suitability for participating in the EASL Forum.

1) Name_________________________________________ Phone ______________________

Last First

Position/Relation____________________________ (Area/City Code)

2) Name_________________________________________ Phone ______________________

Last First

Position/Relation____________________________ (Area/City Code)
ESSAY QUESTIONS

Please type your name on any additional pages that you use.

1) What interests you most about a program in ethics and servant leadership, and why do you want to participate?
2) What types of experiences have you had that have informed or shaped your understanding of the world? What types of questions about society, community, science, the world, yourself, etc would you like to explore in a forum such as this?

*Applications may be emailed to: chantel.lashay.smith@emory.edu or mailed to:
Emory University Center for Ethics 1531 Dickey Drive, Atlanta, GA 30322